Michigan Celebration of Women in Computing (MICWIC)

When : March 31st - April 1st

Where : East Lansing, MI

Details : This biennial conference will be held at Michigan State University this year! There will be presentations, panel discussions, a poster session, and opportunities for career exploration. They welcome participation by anyone interested in learning about the rewards of careers in computing fields or in advancing technology through broader representation of women. There will also be a career fair that features both regional and national companies and many Michigan colleges and universities.

If you are interested in attending, registration is now open and is $25. WIC is able to sponsor registration costs for a certain number of members, so watch for the application for sponsorship which will be going out soon. Everyone must pay for their own registration initially and then those who are sponsored will be reimbursed for a max of $15.

Job Postings

MATRIX, Center for Digital Humanities and Social Sciences

MATRIX offers competitive hourly pay and a flexible schedule to accommodate students' class schedules.

Front-End Developers Wanted

MATRIX is currently looking for Front-End Web Developers who are motivated to combine the art of design with the art of programming. Responsibilities will include translation of visual compositions into interactive and responsive implementations. You will work with UI/UX designers and back-end developers in order to bridge the gap between graphical design and technical implementation, taking an active role on both sides and defining how the application looks as well as how it works.

Google Code Jam to I/O for Women

When : Saturday, March 11th @ 12 PM

Where : Online

Details : At Google, we're proud of the fact that every day, women are making technology that changes the world. We believe that by creating the right environments and programs, women in tech will be better positioned to continue to drive transformational change in the industry and beyond. We are committed to bringing more women together in the online contest space and to our annual developer conference, Google I/O. And that's why, for the fourth year, we are hosting Code Jam to I/O for Women as one way to do just that.

Code Jam to I/O for Women is a single online round of algorithmic problem solving where the top 150 participants receive a ticket to Google I/O in Mountain View, CA on May 17 - 19, 2017, and a $500 travel stipend.

Registration for Code Jam to I/O for Women is now open
