Scholarship and Fellowship Opportunities

Michigan Council of Women in Technology Foundation Scholarship

The MCWT Foundation offers college scholarships through an application and interview process to qualified young women who are entering or currently majoring in IT fields. Applications will be accepted October 1st to January 31st. Students must be Michigan residents, have a GPA above 3.0, be enrolled in a full time university in Michigan and be a US citizen to be eligible. Visit this link for additional information about the application and review process.

Rewriting the Code Fellowship

If you are an undergraduate woman pursuing a major that could lead to a career in tech, this program is for you. If you're ready to gain valuable technical experience, be part of a community, and build relationships that will last a lifetime, then apply to the Rewriting the Code Fellowship. This fellowship is a year-long program that provides the opportunity to intern at top tech companies across a variety of industries and gain essential personal and confidence-building skills needed to excel in the tech industry. Networking Opportunities

Amway Women in Technology Conference

Amway will be hosting this event to feature the career opportunities that women have in IT at their company. Students will have a chance to hear from Amway employees who will share their experiences and challenges as a woman in a STEM field. These speakers will range from recent interns to directors in Amway North America. Other highlights will include a career panel and tips for securing an internship or job. Click here for more information and to register.

Job Postings

Michigan Health Information Network

The Michigan Health Information Network (MiHIN) is looking to hire technical interns and some full time positions. They are seeking software developers that would be responsible for designing, developing, testing, and documenting reliably working software code for MiHIN infrastructure services and applications. Click here for more information. Reach out to our VP, Sarah Fillwock, at fillwoc2@msu.edu if you are interested.

MATRIX, Center for Digital Humanities and Social Sciences

MATRIX is a research center at MSU that develops and adapts technology to promote research and teaching in several social science disciplines. They are looking to hire student web developers! MATRIX offers competitive hourly pay and a flexible schedule to accommodate students' class schedules. As a student developer, you will get exposure to real projects and deploy real code that will be used by clients around the globe. No extensive experience is needed to apply. Send your resume to Josh Christ at christj2@msu.edu if you are interested. Check out their website for more information.

Upcoming MSU CSE Events

Spartan Hackers : HTML/CSS Workshop

When : Tuesday, September 12th @ 7:40 PM

Where : 1225 Engineering Building

Details : Spartan Hackers will be hosting a HTML/CSS workshop given by Julian Shomali! This meeting will start straight after WIC. Come out to learn some basics about HTML, CSS and possibly a little JavaScript! These are great tools to start a personal website or to create a simple website to submit at a hackathon. There will be pizza and pop sponsored by Spartan Innovations.
